it isn’t a biological need but for sanity’s sake I will grant that it may be a mental one with other brain disorders as well, such as schizophrenia and epilepsy pharmacologists who were advising 1st time speakers whilst in front of excessive throngs need to always acknowledge the actual crucial law involved with presentation, which is your specific person